

MILITARY CHILDCARE dot COM

MilitaryChildCare.com is making it easier to find child care on installations around the world. Thanks to feedback from families like yours, the website is being upgraded to even better serve your needs. Here's what you can look forward to in the new version, launching early 2019:

Brand New Look & Feel

- Access MilitaryChildCare.com more easily from your mobile device, thanks to the site's new responsive design
- Simply manage your family profile, child care requests and offers from your personal family dashboard
- Receive a guided online experience to help you provide information that yields more targeted search results

Simpler More Streamlined Management

- Thanks to consolidated notifications, receive fewer and more tailored emails focused on your overall child care requirements
- With just a click, reconfirm your interest in remaining on various waitlists and update your child care requests as your needs change
- Access self-help tools, like security questions, that enable you to manage your account, including when you've forgotten your password

Better Search Capabilities

- See all available child care options and refine your search results to find care options best suited to meet your family's needs
- Identify care options within specific driving distances of your workplace or home
- View expanded child care options, including Military Child Care in Your Neighborhood, available for eligible families

More Comprehensive Information

- Access more information about the Department of Defense child placement process, including details about family type and priority, and how these factors impact your Anticipated Placement Time
- Receive improved communication about Anticipated Placement Times to help with your planning
